UNDERGRADUATE CEREMONY

MARY LYON LAWN | PLYMOUTH STATE UNIVERSITY | PLYMOUTH, NEW HAMPSHIRE

TO THE PLYMOUTH STATE UNIVERSITY CLASSES OF 2020 & 2021

CONGRATULATIONS ON EARNING YOUR DEGREE FROM PLYMOUTH STATE UNIVERSITY!

Your academic achievement is something that you will be proud of for your lifetime. Whether your next step is entering a career track or pursuing advanced specialization in your field, the education you have received from PSU provides you with critical knowledge and skills that will serve you no matter what direction your journey takes you. The Trustees of the University System of New Hampshire congratulate you on your success and extend our continued good wishes as you enter a new chapter of personal and professional accomplishment.

The faculty and staff at Plymouth State have eagerly sought ways to help you find opportunities to become connected to campus life and to your community of Plymouth, New Hampshire. We encourage you to carry on this tradition of engagement in the future—in the communities you serve and as members of the Plymouth State University Alumni Association.

The USNH trustees would also like to acknowledge the families of graduates for the many ways they have demonstrated their support for you. We understand how important that support is to your success and the commitment it requires. Whether you are a traditional or non-traditional-age student, a graduate student, a veteran, or a first-generation student, the role family and friends play cannot be overestimated.

And finally, we encourage you to reflect upon the dreams and aspirations that brought you to PSU, and to seek out and to excel at the many opportunities that lie ahead.

With all good wishes,

Joseph G. Morone

Chair, Board of Trustees, University System of New Hampshire

ON BEHALF OF THE PLYMOUTH STATE UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR GRADUATION AND WELCOME TO OUR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION!

While the classes of 2020 and 2021 had their college experience impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, there are aspects of your Plymouth State experience that can never be diminished. Remember the feelings you had when you decided Plymouth was the place for you, when you “just knew.” Remember the celebrations and joy of being young, in college, making friends, and having a real sense of independence. Remember the classes that confirmed that you’d found your major, and the relationships you made with professors that will help propel you into your career. These are important, and will always belong to you.

I graduated from Plymouth State College in 2001, started working at Plymouth and earned my MBA in 2006 from what had become Plymouth State University. I played and went on to coach rugby. I’m still in touch with the rugby alumni and we proudly raise money to support the team. I loved my time at Plymouth, and I still love Plymouth State!

As the current chair of the PSU Alumni Association, I am honored to welcome you into our ranks. While it’s been a long time coming, and not anything any of us would have imagined, I’m so proud to see you celebrating your well-deserved graduation at this Commencement.

Commencement of course means a beginning, and as we round the corner of this pandemic and you fully begin to pursue your life and career after Plymouth, I wish you happiness, health, and success. Let us never forget the place that gave us all our start, where we met our people, where we grew up and became adults. Plymouth is great because of the people who are there and who came before us and who cared enough to give of themselves. Now we ask you to join us and give back to future students as you are able with your time, your expertise, and your philanthropic support.

Together, we make Plymouth State.

President of Plymouth State University

James W. Dean, Jr.
President of the University of New Hampshire

Frank Edelblut
Commissioner of Education

Mark Rubinstein
President of Granite State College

Melinda D. Treadwell
President of Keene State College

I know the path to this Commencement celebration has been anything but easy for the classes of 2020 and 2021. None of us had any idea of the length and depth of this pandemic or its impacts when it hit last year and we have altered plans repeatedly in response to this virus. But here we are in recognition of one of the most significant achievements of your life. Moreover, we are here today because all of you, students, faculty, and staff, stepped up and made sacrifices to safely continue your studies, either in-person or remotely, demonstrating our community's cohesiveness, selflessness, and commitment to do what is necessary to meet the challenges we face.

In this, our one hundred and fiftieth anniversary year, you have shown the world that Plymouth State's historic ability to innovate, and our deeply-rooted sense of community, remain vital. You have continually adapted throughout the crisis, rising to the occasion with social distancing, mask-wearing, testing, Zoom and other technologies, and many other essential requirements.

Our motto, Ut prosim (That I may serve), shines brighter than ever. In our communities and classrooms, you took your place on the healthcare frontlines, made and distributed thousands of free masks, helped collect personal protective equipment (PPE), studied pandemics past and present, crunched COVID data, and planned for a better world while considering race, class, crime, and justice. All of this was in addition to creatively continuing the good work that you began before the pandemic and successfully completing your degree.

You know how to work across disciplines, remain strong in the face of adversity, and keep your eyes on the prize while dedicated to the common good.

Your future awaits, and we can't wait to hear about your successes and accomplishments. You are part of the Panther family, and we have no doubt that as alumni you will apply and build on what you have learned by continuing to persevere, lead, and work collaboratively.

Congratulations, and our very best wishes for future success and happiness!

Donald L. Birx, President

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Deborah Birx

Dr. Deborah Birx is a world-renowned medical expert in clinical and basic immunology, infectious diseases, pandemic preparedness, vaccine research, and global health. She has spent her career serving the nation, first as an army colonel, and later, running some of the most influential programs at the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the US Department of State. Most recently, Dr. Birx served as the White House coronavirus response coordinator, making recommendations to top officials based on complex data integration.

Dr. Birx began her career focused on HIV/AIDS vaccine research for the Department of Defense and progressed to serve as the director of the US Military HIV Research Program from 1996 to 2005. She led one of the most influential HIV vaccine trials and was awarded two US Meritorious Service Medals and the Legion of Merit Award for her groundbreaking research and leadership skills. From 2005 to 2014, Dr. Birx served as director of the CDC's Division of Global HIV/AIDS in the Center for Global Health and was responsible for all of the agency's global HIV/AIDS activities.

In 2014, Dr. Birx became an ambassador-at-large when she assumed the role of the coordinator of the United States Government Activities to Combat HIV/AIDS and US Special Representative for Global Health Diplomacy. For her work, she was awarded a Lifetime Achievement Award from the African Society for Laboratory Medicine and a William C. Watson, Jr. Medal of Excellence.

Dr. Birx is known for driving implementation improvements to increase impact and has spent a career increasing overall effectiveness of programs through change management. She has published over 230 manuscripts in peer-reviewed journals, authored nearly a dozen chapters in scientific publications, as well as developed and patented vaccines. She received her medical degree from the Hershey School of Medicine, Pennsylvania State University, and beginning in 1980 she trained in internal medicine and basic and clinical immunology at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center and the National Institutes of Health. Dr. Birx is board certified in internal medicine, allergy and immunology, and diagnostic and clinical laboratory immunology.

Dr. Birx is the sister of Plymouth State University President Donald Birx.

A TRADITION STEEPED IN HISTORY

The Academic Procession is a descendant of European religious processions, which began to include teaching faculties in the Middle Ages, when universities were closely associated with the medieval church.

The order used in today's procession has evolved through many years of practice at Plymouth State University. At the front of the line is the marshal, who will carry the University mace, a symbol of authority and unity. The marshal will be followed in the procession by two flag bearers, the president of Plymouth State University, the provost, members of the University System Board of Trustees, honored guests, speakers, vice presidents, and senior class officers. This group is followed by the faculty, who march in order of rank. The faculty is followed by the degree candidates.

THE MACE

The tradition of the academic mace began in the late fourteenth century when two ancient instruments, the royal scepter and the battle mace, were combined to form a symbol of authority of the rector of a university. Today, the academic mace, along with the presidential medallion, signifies that the president of the university is the temporary embodiment of the power, authority, and autonomy vested in the institution.

The faculty marshal carries the academic mace at public events such as Commencement exercises and convocations as a symbol of the special stewardship authority and trust reposed in the faculty for the curriculum and academic affairs of the university. The PSU mace was designed and created by Professor of Sculpture Philip Lonergan in 2004.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion is the official insignia of the President's Office and is worn on ceremonial occasions. Created when Plymouth State became a university, the medallion embodies parts of the official seal of the University, showing pictorial representations of Rounds Hall, the Old Man of the Mountain, the lamp of enlightenment, and our connection to the outdoors.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The caps, gowns, and hoods seen today have evolved from costumes worn during early religious processions to distinguish church and university members from the laity. In present times, the attire serves to indicate, by style and adornment, the chief academic degree attained, the major field of study, and the college or university attended by the wearer.

THE GOWN

The modern academic costume worn in the United States is based on an intercollegiate code established in 1895. Most gowns are black, but more American colleges and universities now permit the wearing of college colors. The associate's gown and the bachelor's gown are the same. They have long, pointed sleeves, and are untrimmed and worn closed. The master's gown, worn either open or closed, has long, crescent-shaped sleeves. The doctoral gown has black velvet panels down the front, and velvet bars on bell-shaped sleeves.

THE CAP

The customary head covering is either the mortarboard or the Oxford cap. The tassel on the mortarboard cap may be black or of a color indicating the degree. The doctor's tassel is usually gold in color. The tassel is worn over the left front quarter of the mortarboard once the degree has been awarded.

THE HOOD

The hood, which drapes over the back of the gown, carries the greatest symbolism of all the components of the academic costume, and dates back to the twelfth century when it was intended as a head cover or shoulder cape. Its length and width denote the wearer's highest academic achievement. The color of the velvet trim reveals the wearer's major field of study. Linings, which are exposed in the center of the hood as it lies over the back of the gown, indicate the colors of the degree-granting institution.

THE COLORS

In regalia, academic disciplines are noted by color. These colors can be found on undergraduate and master's tassels and on master's and doctoral hoods on the velvet edging.

| Field of Study | Velvet Trim Colors |
|---------------------------|--------------------|
| Agriculture | Maize |
| Arts, Letters, Humanities | White |
| Business Administration | Drab (Tan) |
| Economics | Copper |
| Education | Light Blue |
| Fine Arts | Brown |
| Forestry | Russet |
| Journalism | Crimson |
| Law | Purple |
| Library Science | Lemon |
| Music | Pink |
| Nursing | Apricot |
| Philosophy | Blue |
| Physical Education | Sage Green |
| Physical Therapy | Teal |
| Public Administration | Peacock Blue |
| Public Health | Salmon |
| Science | Golden Yellow |
| Social Work | Citron |

THE CORD AND STOLE

Cords, medallions, or colored tassels may be worn by some members of academic honor societies to signify their achievements. The standards for this distinction are set by each honor society. The cords are worn around the neck and drape down the front of the gown.

Special intertwined green and white cords may be worn by 20 graduates today. This indicates that they were selected as the Class of 2019 Top 20 Seniors by a committee comprising faculty and staff from a variety of academic disciplines, and is based on leadership on campus, community involvement, and quality of character.

Veterans, active duty personnel, and ROTC students may wear a red, white, and blue cord to acknowledge their service to our country.

Plymouth State's lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer students who have participated in Lavender Graduation, a ceremony honoring LGBTQ students and acknowledging their achievements and contributions to the University, may wear a rainbow cord.

Members of several student organizations, University programs, and student athletes may also wear a stole in recognition of that involvement. The stole may be adorned with the emblem(s) of the organization(s) in which the student has participated.

PSU's international students may choose to wear a lapel pin displaying the flag of their home countries. This year features students from Canada, China, Germany, Nigeria, Spain, Sweden, and Taiwan.

THE HONORS TASSEL

Green and white tassels distinguish honors baccalaureate graduates. Summa cum laude is granted to a graduate with a GPA of 3.75–4.0. Magna cum laude is granted to a graduate with a GPA of 3.50–3.74. Cum laude is granted to a graduate with a GPA of 3.25–3.49.

NATIONAL ANTHEM SINGER

Todd Angilly '99

Todd Angilly '99 is an opera singer and the official anthem singer of the Boston Bruins. Out of the goodness of his heart, he's lent his outstanding talent during the pandemic to bring cheer to hospital workers and other first responders, children and seniors, and food distribution crowds and drive-by audiences, among many others.

When he's not singing, Angilly is the re-entry employment manager with the Massachusetts Department of Corrections, helping former inmates reenter the workforce.

In 2018, while working as a bartender at the TD Garden SportsDeck bar, the Bruins had an emergency 15 minutes before game time and asked if he could sing the national anthem. Angilly has since become the team's regular anthem singer.

Angilly received his Plymouth State bachelor of arts degree in music and was a member of the University's Chamber Singers and the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. A classically trained tenor who studied at the New England Conservatory in Boston, he is also a cantor at St. Mary Church in Quincy, MA.

Angilly has sung for every major Boston team and at the New Hampshire Motor Speedway in Loudon, NH. In 2019 he returned to his alma mater and provided the anthem before the Homecoming football game, returning to the field where his anthem singing began.

2020 DISTINGUISHED GRADUATE TEACHING AWARD

Phillip Sanguedolce, PsyD, Graduate Teaching Lecturer, Counseling Education and School Psychology

“Dr. Phil” brings vast and varied experience to the classroom. He runs a private clinical practice that specializes in psychological assessment and the treatment of children and adolescents, and served for many years as school psychologist and director of the health and clinical services department at Plymouth Regional High School. As an adjunct faculty member/teaching lecturer since 2003, he has taught courses in educational assessment, research design, social behavior, advanced human development, and psychopathology, and he has served as practicum testing supervisor.

2020 DISTINGUISHED UNDERGRADUATE TEACHING AWARD

Amanda Whitworth, '08MEd, Senior Teaching Faculty

Whitworth, an award-winning teacher and performer, is the first dancer to be honored as New Hampshire artist laureate. She is using her appointment to bring visibility to the state’s rural spaces and people using the arts, and she collaborates on large scale projects involving technology, education, business, health, and visual arts. Her numerous contributions include co-founding both the New Hampshire Dance Alliance and Articine, and helping to revise the Department of Education’s State Curricular Standards for Dance Education

2020 DISTINGUISHED SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

Amy Villamanga, PhD, Associate Professor of Environmental Science and Policy

Villamagna joined the PSU faculty in 2014, and she uses a combination of field and GIS methods to explore how changes in land use and climate affect ecosystems. She teaches in the undergraduate and graduate environmental science and policy programs, geography, and the sustainability minor, and was named the Helen Abbott Professor of Environmental Studies (2016–2019) in recognition of her exemplary integration of environmental studies into coursework and research. Her numerous peer-reviewed publications and scientific presentations include many student collaborations.

2020 DISTINGUISHED TEACHING LECTURER AWARD

Thomas Morin, '86MEd, Teaching Lecturer, Meteorology and Physics

Morin, a teaching lecturer since 2004, teaches astronomy and has served as a student teaching supervisor. He trains students for the International Astronomical Search Collaboration (IASC), in which data collected is used by Harvard’s Minor Planet Center to monitor Near-Earth Objects (asteroids). He has served as a consultant for New England Common Assessment Program (NECAP) certification and for various testing centers relating to student assessment for education departments. His awards include a National Honors Teachers Award from the Goddard Space Flight Center.

2020 EXCELLENCE IN FACULTY SERVICE AWARD

Lourdes B. Avilés, PhD; Professor of Meteorology

Avilés teaches a variety of graduate and undergraduate courses in atmospheric physics and dynamics, air quality, tropical meteorology, severe weather, scientific writing, and others. Her extensive service to Plymouth State is complemented by active participation in the atmospheric science community, and she has represented PSU in many national, regional, and local venues, both on her own and together with colleagues and students. She has also been actively involved in activities related to women and underrepresented minorities in science in general, and is an award-winning author.

2020 TRANSFORMATIVE TEACHING AWARD

Kristin Stelmok, MA, Teaching Faculty, English

Stelmok has taught at PSU since 2007. She has been a key developer of Cluster Composition courses and has taught several theme-based sections, has been at the forefront of Cluster Learning, and has developed Open Educational Resources (OERs) and project-based modules. She has served as a faculty advisor to the Sexual Assault & Violence Education Alliance, and in 2018 received the Theo Kalikow Award in recognition of her advocacy and contributions to the advancement of women’s issues.
