

We use the NH DOE educator search. We just started using the educator search for 3 other New England states. Maine and Connecticut doesn't publicize the information. We also survey recent completers if they plan to attend graduate school.

There were 99 unique program completers for the 2021-2022 academic year. Approximately 70% have either earned their NH Beginner Educator Licensure, working elsewhere in New England or pursuing graduate school. There may be other students employed outside of New England.
